

THE WAR OF 1812.

The Part That Ohio County Took in That Conflict.

TWO COMPANIES FURNISHED.

One of Cavalry and the Other of Infantry. Their Triumphant Progress Through the Country to the Seat of War—They Were Stopped at Kingswood, However, by the News That Peace Had Been Declared. Like the King's Men, Having Marched Up the Hill, They Then Marched Down Again—Interesting Sketch by Judge Cranmer.

By G. L. Cranmer.

On the 10th of April, 1812, Congress passed an act authorizing the calling into service a detachment of 100,000 militia, who should hold themselves in readiness to march at a moment's warning.

Under this act the quota to be furnished by Virginia was 12,000 men, officers included.

On the 19th of April, 1812, James Barbour, governor of Virginia, issued his general orders for requisition to fill the quota allotted to the state. At the period of which we write the militia of the state was divided into four divisions and these again were sub-divided into twenty brigades.

Ohio county was included in the Tenth brigade, which was commanded by Brigadier General Benjamin Biggs, of Ohio county, and in the Third division, commanded by Major General John Smith, of Frederick county.

Under this call no men were required from this county, as no appointment had been assigned to it.

It was not until the 3rd of September, 1812, that any portion of the 12,000 men mentioned in the general orders of April 19, 1812, were called upon to take the field, and then only to the number of 1,500, who were ordered to repair to Point Pleasant, which had been selected as the place of rendezvous.

Subsequently, on the 20th of July, 1814, another requisition was made by the President on the militia of Virginia for a like number of about 12,000 men, of which the Tenth brigade, under the appointment was to furnish 400 men, but this county was not included in the same.

On the 12th of January, 1815, another requisition was made, under which the Tenth brigade was called upon to furnish 349 men, officers included. Under this requisition Ohio county furnished a company of light horse, consisting of sixty-four men and officers, which was commanded by Captain Samuel McLure, and a company of infantry consisting of seventy-four men and officers, under the command of Captain William Irwin. Their superior officer was Lieutenant Colonel Archibald Woods, of the Fourth regiment of Virginia militia. Both of these companies volunteered their services immediately upon being informed of the requisition.

So space was the population of Wheeling this early day and so great the number in proportion to its limited population of those who had volunteered that when the companies departed from the town it appeared as if every able-bodied man had deserted the place, leaving behind them the aged men, women and children alone. After being mustered in they took up their line of march for their destination—Norfolk, Virginia, which was their appointed place of rendezvous, but which they failed to reach for reasons hereinafter mentioned. Upon leaving the town they marched northwardly, following the road leading along the shore of the Ohio river, until they reached Glenn's run, where they halted and made their first camp.

The people of the town turned out en masse and accompanied them to its outskirts, while a large number of the citizens followed them to their camp, many of whom remained with them to the following day, when they struck their tents, resumed their march, and reaching Wellsburg, made that town their next camping place. At this place they were welcomed with demonstrations of rejoicing and expressions of patriotic united, all of whom had turned out to extend to them a generous and hearty greeting.

On the next day they took up their line of march for Washington, Pennsylvania, where they were greeted by another grand ovation by the citizens and where they remained a day to rest and make some necessary arrangements for their future progress necessary for their comfort.

From this last place they went to their next point—Morgantown, Virginia, where they met with demonstrations of a similar character to those already described.

From here they proceeded to their next objective point, which was Kingswood, Virginia, where they were met by a special courier sent by the governor, who announced to them the gratifying news that peace had been declared, and that their services being no longer needed, they were ordered to return home, as appears from the following:

Adjutant General's Office.

Richmond, 20th Feb. 1815.

Peace between the United States and Great Britain having been announced, the necessity for carrying into effect the law of the last session of the General Assembly, "Authorizing the raising of a regular force for the defence of the state," no longer exists. The courts martial of the several regiments, and therefore adjourned and not re-assemble until further orders.

The several detachments of militia on their march to Norfolk and to the city of Richmond will be immediately mustered by their commanders, and discharged, or march back to their respective counties, and be there mustered and discharged, as may best suit the convenience of the men.

The commander in chief embraces with great pride and satisfaction this opportunity of expressing to the militia of Virginia, his sense of the distinguished patriotism, they have manifested throughout the war upon all occasions and under all circumstances; they have been conspicuous for the alacrity with which they have borne every fatigue and danger, and for their valor in the field. The people of Virginia have the high satisfaction derived from a consciousness of having done their duty to their country in peace and in war. When the public good requires it, the particular interest of this state has in all cases been made to yield to the general welfare. There has been no instance in which the voice of Virginia has been raised to secure any exclusive advantage to herself.

There has been no call upon her to make a sacrifice of state interest for the preservation of national character or rights, which she has not obeyed. When her citizens have been called to the field, they have with equal fortitude, and heroism, braved the dangers of battle and disease. A people so brave and patriotic, faithful in the discharge of all their duties, must respect themselves, and command the esteem of those with whom they are connected, and will, we may trust, receive the protection of the Divine Power, without whose permission, no human wisdom or foresight can secure to any people, the happiness which we may fondly hope is in reserve for our countrymen.

By order,

CLAIBORNE W. GOOCH,

Adjutant General.

It was while in Washington, Pennsylvania, that they received the cheering news of the victory gained by General Jackson, in the battle of New Orleans, which was fought by him on the 8th day of January, 1815, which filled them with new life and vigor, and inspired them with high-wrought patriotism and zeal, to which they gave jubilant expression by a grand celebration of the auspicious event consisting of patriotic speeches, toasts and a grand military ball, which was united in generally by the citizens of the place, who emulated each other in giving expression to their enthusiasm over the crowning triumph of the American arms.

Retracting their steps to Morgantown, a few returned across country to their homes, a number of whom took boats at that point consisting of pirogues and flat-bottomed boats and floated to Pittsburgh, from whence they continued down the river to Wheeling. When the boats rounded the bend near where the Top mill now stands, the martial strains of the fife and the sonorous tones of the drum awakened the echoes of the surrounding hills and were borne to the ears of the inhabitants of the town, who had lined the banks of the river to welcome the returning braves and who gave vent to loud hurrahs of rejoicing making the welkin to ring with their glad shouts.

There were five members of the Irwin family who volunteered in this war in the company commanded by Captain Irwin, whose names were William Irwin, Samuel Irwin, David Irwin, James Snodgrass and Robert Snodgrass, the last named three being uncles of Isaac and Samuel Irwin. The late Samuel Irwin was at the time a lad under twenty-one years of age and his father, who was captain of the company, was opposed to his joining the command, but by dint of coaxing and persuading he finally succeeded in overcoming the opposition of his parent, who reluctantly permitted him to volunteer as a private. Another young man—Alexander McConnell, a brother of the late James McConnell, deceased, was also a volunteer in the same company, although at the time in his teens. An individual by the name of Hootman, was the drummer of the company, and Jim Nevitt, of tall and commanding figure and large and muscular frame, was the fife.

The patriotic feeling of the day had been fully aroused, but the Wheeling patriots had approved of the opportunity of proving to the foe the stuff of which they were made. A member of the company used jocosely to remark that when the British heard that they were coming they became disheartened and promptly declared peace.

In this connection we are gratified in being able to call attention to the following letter, which was addressed to Colonel Archibald Woods, by Brigadier General J. G. Jackson, formerly a member of Congress from the Northwestern district of Virginia, which included the county of Ohio.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16, 1815.

SIR:—I have the pleasure to inform you that by an order from the secretary of war, dated on this day, I am directed to communicate to you the order recently ordered to march from the Tenth and Twentieth brigades of Virginia militia are discharged from a compliance with the said orders. I have the honor to be, Yours most obediently,

J. G. JACKSON, Br. Gen.

To Colonel Commandant of Ohio County Militia.

I congratulate you and my country on the restoration of an honorable peace.

In the beginning of hostilities in the year 1812, a volunteer company of infantry, under the command of Captain Benjamin Jeffries had been ordered into the service, but were deficient in wagons and teams, whereupon Colonel Woods issued the following order:

Ohio County, Virginia.

You are hereby forthwith directed to impress the wagon, team and driver of the wagon belonging to Daniel Steenrod, for the use of your company now ordered on duty for the purpose of conveying the baggage belonging to the same, on the tour of duty which they are now ordered on. And this shall be your warrant for so doing.

Given under my hand this 22nd day of September, 1812.

ARCHIBALD WOODS,

Lieut. Col. Com'd Fourth Regiment Virginia Militia.

To Capt. Benjamin Jeffries.

The prompt return to the warrant was as follows:

"I have executed the above warrant agreeable to order."

BENJAMIN JEFFRIES, Capt.

Ohio County and Commonwealth of Virginia.

The subscribers being mutually chosen and being first sworn according to law to appraise a wagon, team, harness and cover, &c., the property of Daniel Steenrod, of said county, impressed the day by Colonel Archibald Woods, for the use of a detachment of militia now ordered on duty, under the command of Captain Benjamin Jeffries, also the hire per day for the use of the said wagon, team and driver, do appraise the same as follows:

One wagon.....	$75
One wagon cover.....	50
One sorrel horse.....	20
One bay horse.....	25
One chestnut-sorrel mare.....	25
One bay mare.....	25
Four sets gears.....	40
Amounting to.....	$305
The hire per day for said team and driver, $2 37 1/2.

JOHN MCLEURE,

WM. IRWIN,

JOHN FEAY.

"I certify the above."

ARCHIBALD WOODS,

Lieut. Col. Com'd Fourth Reg't V. M.

The writer has in his possession the well worn original roll of Captain William Irwin's company of light infantry, and also a copy of the original roll of Captain Samuel McLure's company of cavalry.

Cold Comfort for Populists.

St. Louis Globe Democrat: Some one who has taken the trouble to ascertain the political complexion of the legislatures of the forty-five states finds that there are 230 Democrats, 520 Populists and 214 Unionists, a clear Republican majority of 550. In the legislatures of twelve southern states there are 1,359 Democrats, 367 Republicans and 294 Populists, which exhibit will be an unpleasant surprise to the Populists who have supposed their efforts are making much progress in the south.

Cairo Field Lengthened.

Special Correspondence.

RUTHERFORD, W. Va., Feb. 8.

The Cairo Oil Company brought in a good well to-day in the salt sand, one-half mile south of the old Ritchie mines along the Chesapeake & Kanawha Valley railroad. This is five miles ahead of any previous well, and opens up a vast amount of territory that was thought to be no good. This lengthens out the Cairo field until it is about twenty miles long.

WHEELING TALK.

What Some of Our Residents are Doing and Saying.

At the corner of Sixteenth and Chapline streets just opposite the city hall, Mr. Robert Teasdale has carried on for the last seven years, an extensive ice and coal business. This has brought him in contact with a host of Wheeling people, so that in repeating what he said to our representative, who recently interviewed him, the reader has not the time to waste perusing the opinions of an unknown person. What he says is from a citizen, one of ourselves. Read his statement: "The pains in my back, generally of a dull, heavy nature were located, just over the kidneys. When I attempted to do any lifting or stooping, sharp twinges shot through me and I have been so bad that I could scarcely get around. In getting up and down I had to obtain the greatest care unless I wished to incur excruciating pains. I felt pretty well other ways only I could not trust my back. Both of my sons had been complaining of their backs hurting them and when I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at The Logan Drug Co., they also took some and in each of our cases the result was the same, the pain left, almost at once. Our backs felt stronger and more robust. We can honestly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering with their kidneys."

What Doan's Kidney Pills have done for others, they will do for you. They are sold for 50 cents a box. If your dealer doesn't keep them, write us, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
